

The South Caucasus regional office of the Heinrich Böll Foundation (Tbilisi, Georgia) is seeking a

PROJECT MANAGER in Yerevan

for a new three-year project „LGBTI-Solidarity Network“ in Armenia and Georgia funded by the European Commission (EIDHR).

For details about the Heinrich Böll Foundation and its activities, please visit www.ge.boell.org and www.boell.de.

Scope of work: The project manager will be responsible for managing the new project that will 1) Enhance protection of and respect for LGBTI people's rights; 2) Combat homophobia and support LGBTI people's inclusion in Georgia's and Armenia's respective societies.

Her/his tasks include but are not limited to:

- Management of the project „LGBTI-Solidarity Network“ project in Armenia;
- Content planning, realisation and evaluation of programme as well as control and monitoring of the overall budget, all in close coordination with the project coordinator and finance coordinator;
- Oversight of effective implementation of project components in terms of content and administration by the partner organisations;
- Build and participate in Armenian civil society networks in the fields of democracy, gender issues, human rights, and other regional issues;
- Participation in the development of the office's overall programme;
- Compliance with regulations and deadlines with regard to financial and narrative reports.

Qualifications and experience

Required:

- University degree in social science or law or comparable qualification;
- Strong project-management skills, including budget planning and controlling;
- Thorough understanding of and sensitivity for democracy, gender and minority issues;
- Excellent time-management, communication and organisational skills;
- Interest in political developments;
- Strong verbal and written command of Armenian, English, and Russian;
- Experience with work in multinational contexts and teams;
- Good computer skills, especially MS Office.

Desirable:

- Experience in implementing or managing EU-funded projects;
- Experience in gender sensitive project planning & implementation;
- International professional experience.
- Command of German highly desirable.

How to apply:

Interested candidates should submit an application by e-mail to info@ge.boell.org no later than December 29, 12:00 am. Please, indicate "EU-Project Manager ARM" in the subject line.

Applications should be written in English and include a letter of motivation, a CV and 2 letters of reference.

We regret that due to the high volume of responses only short-listed candidates will be contacted.